BARONS.

WHEN THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPE

OHN SOMERVILLE, LORD SOMERVILLE. Succeeded his uncle, James, the late lord, April 17, 1795.

A Lord of the King's Bed-chamber.

The first of this name on record, is sir Gaultier de Somerville, lord of Whichhour, &c. in the county of Stafford, and Aston-Somerville, in the county of Gloucester. who came into England with William the Conqueror. He was ancestor of all the Somervilles in Great Britain. Sir Gaultier, his eldest son, succeeded him in his English estates; and William, his second son, contracted a friendship with king David I. of Scotland, when that prince was in England, and accompanied him into Scotland, where he appears to have been a frequent witness to the royal grants to religious houses. From him descended the Somervilles of Scotland. He died in 1162. and William de Somerville, his eldest son, distinguished himself by killing a monstrous serpent which had ravaged the county of Roxburgh, and obtained from king William the Lion, the barony of Lintoun. He left a son, William, who was one of the barons appointed by Alexander II. at his marriage, to exercise in a tournament, at the castle of Roxburgh. He left one daughter, married to sir Archibald Campbell, of Luchow; and one G 3 sun, son, who succeeded him, which son, William, was kaighted by Alexander HI. for his gallant behaviour at the battle of Largo. He was succeeded by his son, sir Thomas, who was concerned in the treaty of marriage proposed between queen Margaret and prince Edward, of England, in 1290; he joined the brave sir William Wallace, in the defence of his country. Sir Walter, his eldest son, succeeded him in 1306, and joined king Robert Bruce, whom he, never forsook in his greatest distress. He married Giles, daughter of sir John Herring, with whom he obtained the lands of Drum, Gilmerton, and Goodtrees. He was succeeded by his eldest son, sir James, in 1330, who fell at the battle of Durham, and left no issue.

In 1346 he was succeeded by his brother sir Thomas, one of the barons sent to England, in 1354, to treat about the liberty of king David. He married the daughter of James Douglas, of London Hill and Caldercleir, ancestor of the earls of Morton: with her he obtained the barony of Carnwath, in Lanarkshire. He was succeeded by his eldest son, sir William, who was one of the sureties appointed for king David's ransom, in 1357. This sir William was succeeded, in 1403, by his eldest son, siz Thomas, who was one of the commissioners appointed. to obtain the liberty of king James 1, when a prisoner in England. - He was a lord of parliament in 1422, and in 1429 he was created lord Somerville; he was lord justicegeneral south of the Forth; he married Janet, daughter of Alexander, lord Darnley, with whom he got the barony of Cambusnethen. He was succeeded by his eldest son, William, second lord, who was in great favour with king James I.: he married Janet, daughter of sir J. Mowat, of Stenhouse; and was succeeded by his eldest son, in 1456, John, third lord, who commanded the Clydesdale horse, at the battle of Sark, in 1479. He was also at the siege of Roxburgh, where king James II. was slain, 1460; he married Helen, daughter of Adam, lord Hails, and had issue a daughter, married to the eldest son of Duncan Campbell, of Lochow; and a son, William, who married a daughter of Hugh, lord Montgomery; but dying before his father, his son John, the fourth lord, succeeded his grandfather in 1491; and dying without issue, was succeeded, in 1542, by hisbrother Hugh,

Hugh, the fifth lord, who was taken prisoner at the battle of Solway, and passed the time of his captivity in England, at Audley Eng, the seat of the earl of Suffolk; he married Janet, daughter of William Maitland, of icthington; and was succeeded by his eldest son, James, the sixth lord, who married Agnes, daughter of lord Evandale; and he dying in 1570, was succeeded by his eldes: son, Hugh, seventh lord; he married Eleanor, daughter of George, lord Seaton; and his two eldest sons dving unmarried, his third son, Gilbert, eighth lord, succeeded in 1597. He sold the estates of Carnwath, Cambusnethen, and Cowthally; and dying without issue, in the year 1619, was succeeded by his brother Hugh, the ninth lord, who was one of the pages of honour to king James VI. The severe blow which the family received from lord Gilbert's prodigality, induced him to decline claiming his title, which he therefore allowed to lie dormant. He married a daughter of Hamilton, of Raplock; and was succeeded by James, his eldest son, who married Lillias, daughter of sir James Bannatyne, of Newhall, and left a son, James, who married Martha, daughter of Bannatyne, of Corhouse; and James, his eldest son, married Elizabeth, daughter of G. Graham, esq. but was unfortunately killed, in his father's life-time, in endeavouring to part two of his friends who were fighting; his eldest son, James, succeeded his grandfather, and married a daughter of Murray, of Deuchar; he was succeeded by his eldest son, James, who claimed his peerage, and his title was allowed and confirmed by the House of Lords in 1722, where he afterwards sat as one of the sixteen peers for Scotland. William Somerville, esq. the last of the English branch of the family, dying soon after, bequeathed to him the estate of Aston-Somerville, in Gloucestershire, which had been in the possession of the Somervilles since the conquest: which James, the twenty fifth lord, married, first, Anne Bayntun, of Spy Park, Wilts, widow of Henry Rolt, of Sacomb Park, Herts; she was, grand-daughter to Wilmot, earl of Rochester: by her he had issue, 1. the late lord-2. brothers.

brothers. The said Altham, lord Altham, dying without surviving issue, the title devolved on his next brother, Richard, the third son of Arthur, earl of Anglesey.

The said James, lord Annesley, succeeded his father, and took his seat in parliament as earl of Anglesey, on the 10th of May, 1656; he married Enzabeth Manners, daughter of John, earl of Rutland, and left issue by her three sons, James, John, and Arthur, and died in the year 1690. James, his eldest son and heir, succeeded him, and was married in Westminster Abbey Oct. 28, 1699, to Catharine Darnley, natural daughter of James the Second; and who, on the death of the said James, earl of Anglesey, married John, duke of Buckingham and Normandy. The said James, earl of Anglescy, had issue by Catharine, one daughter, Catharine, born January 7, 1700; and married, in September 1718, to William Phipps, esq. son and heir to sir Constantine Phipps, lord chancelor of Ireland. His lordship died Jan. 18, 1701-2; and was buried at Farnborough, in the county of Southampton, and was succeeded by John, his brother; which John, fourth earl of Anglesey, on May 21, 1706, married Henrietta Stanley, eldest daughter and co-heir of William-Richard-George, ninth earl of Derby; by whom he left issue one daughter, Elizabeth, who died in her infancy; and departing this life on Sept. 18, 1710, was also buried at Farnborough, and was succeeded by Arthur, his only surviving brother, who married Mary, daughter of John Thompson, lord Haversham, by whom he had no issue, and dying on March 31, 1607, was also buried at Farnborough. The male issue of James, the eldest son of Arthur, first earl of Anglescy, becoming extinct by the death of the lastmentioned Arthur, earl of Anglesey, we now proceed to the other sons of Arthur, first earl of Anglesey, viz. Altham, his second son (who was created baron of Altham, in Ireland), left issue an only son, George-James, who died in his infancy; whereupon the title of lord Altham fell to Richard Annesley, third son to Arthur, first earl of Anglesey; which Richard, lord Altham, was, on April 7, 1681, installed dean of Exeter; and dying in 1701, was, on Nov. 25, in that year, buried in Westminster Abbey. He married Dorothy, daughter of Davy, esq. of Devonshire, and left issue by her two sons, Arthur

Arthur and Richard, and one daughter, Elizabeth, married to Maurice, lord Haversham. Arthur, the eldest son, married Mary Shessield, a natural daughter of John, duke of Buckingham and Normandy, and dying without issue in the year 1727, was succeeded in the title of lord Altham, by Richard, his brother and heir; and who also, on the death of Arthur, earl of Anglesey, in 1737, succeeded to the English honours of earl of Anglesey, and baron Annesley, of Newport Pagnel, and to the Irish honours of viscount Valentia, and baron Mountnorris; which Richard, earl of Anglesev, and baron Annesley, of Newport Pagnel, in Great Britain, and viscount Valentia, baron Mountnorris, and baron Altham, in Ireland, on Jan. 24, Jan. 1715, married Anne, daughter and heir to captain John Prust, of Monkley, near Biddeford, in Devonshire, who died without issue on Aug. 1, 1741. His lordship having been separated from his lady several years, at the time of her death received an express in Wales, giving him an account of that event, he returned to Ireland, accompanied by the rev. L. Niel, his lordship's chaplain; and on Sept. 15, 1741, was married to Juliana Donovan, by the said L. Neil, at his lordship's scat at Camblin Park, in the county of Wexford. He died on Feb. 4, 1761, leaving issue by his wife, Juliana, countess of Anglesey, only one son, Arthur, viscount Valentia, the precent earl, and three daughters; 1. Richarda, married, in July, 1761, Robert Phaire, of Temple Shannon, and died in 1807-2. Juliana, married sir Frederick Flood, baronet of Newtown Ormond, in Kilkenny, and died without issue -and, 3, Catharine, married John Toole, esq. and died without issue in May, 1803.

In 1762, after the death of earl Richard, Mr. John Annesley, of Ballisack, presented a petition to the then lord lieutenant of Ireland, claiming the titles of viscount Valentia and baron Mountnorris, as next in succession to those honours, in case Richard, the late earl of Anglesey, had died without issue male lawfully begotten.

The said Arthur, the only son of the aforesaid Richard, earl of Anglesey, and viscount Valentia, presented a counter-petition by his mother and guardian, Juliana, countess of Anglesey. The matter was referred to the attorney and solicitor-general of Ireland, who, after the fullest investigation vestigation (which lasted near four years), reported, or Sept. 21, 1765, that the marriage of Richard, earl of Anglesey, with Juliana Donovan, in 1741, was provede and that the honours of Valentia, Mountmorris, and Altham, were vested in the said Arthur, the only son of the aforesaid Richard, earl of Anglesey and viscount Valentia. · In 1765, the said Arthur having attained his age of twenty-one years, was called to parliament in Ireland by a writ of summons, and took his seat in the House of Peers as viscount Valentia, baron Mountnorris, and baron Altham. In the same year, 1765, ford Valentia, towards the end of the session of parliament, petitioned his Majesty for his writ of summons to the parliament of Great Britain, as earl of Anglesey and baron Annesley, of Newport Lagnel. This petition was referred to the then attorney-general of England, sir William de Grey, who reported in favour of issuing the writ. Sir William was afterwards directed to re-consider his report, and to give his opinion upon such new evidence as should be laid before him. After considering the evidence, sir William de Grey made a second report, recapitulating the evidence, and deciding in lord Valentia's favour. He repence, that Arthur, lord Valentia, was the legitimate son of the late carl of Anglesey, and as such entitled to the honours of the earl of Anglesey and baron Annesley, of Newport Pagnel. Notwithstanding these reports, his Majesty was pleased to refer the base to the House of Lords of Great Britain. The question in this case was, whether ford Valenti e was the legitimate son of the carl of Anglesey? which rested upon the marriage of his father on Sept. 15, 1741, and of the authenticity of the conflicate written at the time by the said Laurence Neil, and of the attestation of the witnesses thereto. The tesrimony of one of the witnesses, Elizabeth Elton, otherwise Smalley, produced against lord Valentia, raised a suspicion of forgery relative to the subscription of Charles Kayannagh, one of the witnesses to the certificate. The impressions made by the imputed forgery, and the inference drawn from the comparison of hands, outweighed the opposite testimony, and the claim was therefore disallowed.

The same question afterwards came on to be heard before the committee of the House of Lords in Irelans, and after the examination of witnesses during twenty-one days, it was determined, on the second of June, in the same year, that the late lord viscount Valentia in Ireland, the earl of Anglesey in England, was married, on Sept. 15, 1741, to the said Juliana Donovan, the then countess dowager of Anglesey, the mother of the sitting lord; and in consequence of this decision, the carl has ever since been summoned to parliament in Ireland, and has enjoyed all the estates in Great Britain and Ireland, of which his said father, Richard, late carl of Anglesey, died seised; and was, in the year 1793, created an earl of the kingdom of Ireland, by the title of earl Mountnerris, of Mountnorris Castle, as above stated; and is also a privy counsellor of the kingdom of Ireland, senior governor of the county of Wexford, and premier baronet of that kingdom.

HAYES ST. LEGER, VISCOUNT DONERAILE, Barron of Doneraile. Born March 9, 1755. Succeeded his father, St. Leger, the late viscount, May 15, 1787. Married, Sept. 3, 1785, Charlotte Bernard, sister of Francis, earl of Bandon, and has issue, Hayes, born May 9, 1786—Charlotte,

-Charlotte, born Feb. 20, 1791-Harriet, bom March

There is a tradition in this noble family, that sir Robert St. Leger, kut, who was present, in 1066, at the battle of Hastings, supported the Conqueror with his hand, when he quitted the ship to land in Sussex. E'r Robert was of an ancient house in Normandy, and settled at Ulcomb, in Kent. His descendants attended Richard I. to the siege of Acon in the Holy Land, (as appears from an inscription on the coffin of Ralph de St. Leger, in the church of Ulcomb), and intermarried with the royal family in the person of sir Thomas St. Leger, knt, who married Anne, of York, duchess of Exeter, sister of king Edward IV, and eldest daughter of Richard Plantagenet, duke of York, Sir Anthony St. Leger, of Ulcomb, served under three successive princes, as lord licutenant of Ireland, and was created by Henry VIII. a knight of the garter for his eminent services during his government in Ireland, where his descendants settled. Sir Anthony, knight of the garter, left issue sir Warham St. Leger, lord president of Munster, who married Ursula, daughter of George Nevil, lord Abergavenny, and was ancestor of Arthur St. Leger, of Doneraile, in Ireland, and of Eggesford, in Devon, who was created by queen Anne, in 1703, baron of Kilmaydow, and viscount Doneraile. His lordship married, Jan. 24, 1690, Elizabeth, heiress of John Hayes, esq. of Winchelsea, in Sussex, JM. P. for that port, and niece of sir James Hayes, of Bedgebury, in Kent, and had issue Arthur, the second viscount, who married in June, 1717, Mary, only daughter of Charles, lord Mohun, who was killed in a duel with the dake of Hamilton, and had issue, Arthur Mohun, third viscount. His lordship was born Aug. 7, 1718; served in the English parliament for Winchelsea; and was appointed, in 1747, a lord of the bed-chamber to Frederic, prince of Wales; married, first, April 3, 1738, Mary, heiress of Anthony Shepherd, esq. of Newcastle, in Longford; and, secondly, Jan. 3, 1739, Catharine Skeffington, eldest daughter of viscount Massereene, but died without issue at Lisbon, Aug. 1749, when the titles devolved to his uncle, Hayes, the fourth viscount, who married, in 1722, Elizabeth, eldest daughter and coheiress of Joseph Dean, lord chief baron of the Exchequer, and died without issue April 25, 1767, when the titles titles became extinct. The estates descended to the issue of the viscount's sister, the hon. Elizabeth St. Leger, who married Richard Aldworth, esq. of Newmarket, in Cork, grandson of sir Richard Aldworth, provost-marshal and vice-president of Munster (descended from the ancient family of Aldworth, of Stanlakes, in Berkshire, the representative of which is new Richard, lord Braybroke), and had issue St Leger Aldworth, who succeeded to the estates of his uncle, the fourth viscount, and was created baron Doneraile in 1776, and farther advanced, in 1785, to the dignity of viscount Doneraile. of issue male, to his brother Edmund.

When surnames took place in the eleventh century, they were established in Connaught under Teig, king of that province (so called from the white steed on which he rode,) who assumed the surname of O'Connor, in honour of Connor his grandfather; other families of the Clan-Murry race followed his example; some taking their surname from a father, others from a grandfather, by prefixing the syllable Mac, that is son, or O, which signifies grandson. One of the descendants of the house of O'Connor, whose christian name was John. having having become bald-headed, was popularly called Maol-Eoin (pronounced O in,) that is Bald John, conformably to a custom which very generally prevailed in Ireland in former times. The transition from Maol-Eoin to Malone, was soon made, and the latter name became in a short time the nomen gentilitium of the family.

JOHN BINGHAM, LORD CLANMORRIS, Baron Clanmorris, of Newbrook, in Mayo, so created July 30, 1900. Married, May 21, 1791, Anna-Maria Yelverton, only daughter of Barry, late viscount Avonmore, and has issue, Yelverton, died young; Richard, born Feb.

18, 1795; Letitia-Maria, born July 27, 1793.

The family of Bingham is of Saxon origin. Sir John de Bingham was seated at Sutton-Bingham in the reign of Henry I. from whence the family removed to Bingham's Melcomb, in Dorsetshire, temp. Edward I. Sir Richard Bingham, marshal of Ireland, was third son of Robert Bingham, of Bingham's Melcomb, and one of the greatest officers of that age; and for his services in Ireland had a grant of the estate of Castlebar. He died in Dublin, Jan 19, 1598, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. Sir Henry Bingham was created a baronet in 1632, and his descendant, sir Charles, the seventh baronet, was created earl of Lucan. John Bingham, of Newbrook (descended from George, brother of marshal Bingham); married, June 1. 1738, Elizabeth, eldest daughter of sir Arthur Shaen, bart, of Bishopstane, grandson of George, sixteenth earl of Kildare, and had issue Henry, of Newbrook, who married Letitia, second daughter of Denis Daly, esq. of Rafford, by lady Anne De Burgh, sister of John, eleventh earl of Clanricarde. and had issue, 1. John, created baron Clanmorris, which dignity had been conferred, in 1629, on the hon. John De Burgh, or Bourk, son of the earl of Clanricarde, by the title of viscount Clanmorris, which became extinct; and, 2. Henry, who died in Nov. 1807.

Heir Apparent. Richard, his lordship's son.

Seat. Newbrook, Mayo.

His lerdship is the second son of James, duke of Leinster, by lady Amelia Mary Lennox, second daughter of Charles, second duke of Richmond and Lennox, and uncle to the present duke of Leinster, and was created to the barony Dec. 27, 1500.

(See Duke of Leinster, in the Peerage of Ireland) Heir, Presumptive. If his lordship dies without issue, the title will be extinct.

WILLIAM WALDEGRAVE, BARON RADSTOCK, of Castletown, an Admiral of the White. Born July 9, 1758. Married at Smyrna, in 1785, Cornelia, second daughter of David Van Lennep, esq. chief of the Dutch' factory of that place, and has issue Granville-George, born Sept. 24, 1786-William, a lieutenant in the royal nuvy, born June 7, 1796-Emily-Susannah-Laura, born' Nov. 5, 1787-Maria, born Dec. 26, 1788, and died in 1791-Isabella-Elizabeth, born Aug. 13, 1792-Harriet. boin Oct. 20, 1793-Caroline, born Oct. 4, 1795-Frances, died young.

His lordship is second son of John, third earl of Waldegrave. He received the freedom of the city of London, for the gallant services rendered to his country, Feb. 14. 1797, and was advanced to the dignity of the peerage. Dec. 27, 1800, by the title of baron Radstock, of Castle-

(See Earl Waldegrave, in the Peerage of England.) Heir apparent. Granville-George, eldest son of his lordship.

SYLVESTER DOUGLAS, BARON GLENBERVIE, of Kincardine; so created Dec. 27, 1900; late Chief Secretary in Ireland, and Representative in Parliament for St. Canice, or Irish Town, in that country, and in the British parliament, first for Fowey, afterwards for Midhurst, then for Plympton, and in 1806 for Hastings; one of his Majesty's most Hon. Privy Council in both Kingdoms; President (in the absence of the earl of Liverpool) of the Committee of Privy Council for the Affairs of Trade and Plantations; one of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India; and formerly one of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury. He was appointed governor of the Cape of Good Hope, in the year 1800; but soon afterwards YOL. II.

terwards relinquished that situation; and, on Feb. 20, 1801, was nominated joint paymaster-general of the forces; in 1803 he was appointed to the office of surveyor-general of the king's woods, forests, and chaces, which office he resigned in 1806, and was again appointed to the same office in 1807. He married, Sept. 25, 1789, Catharine-Ann, eldest daughter of Frederick, second earl of Guilford, and has issue Frederick-Sylvester-North, born Feb. 8, 1791.

Lord Glenbervie is the son of John Douglas, esq. of Fechil, in the parish of Ellon, in the county of Aberdeen.

The said John Douglas was tenth in lineal male descent from William Douglas, the first earl of Douglas, which William was paternal nephew and successor, as heir male, to James, the eighth lord Douglas (called, by historians, the good sir James), who flourished in the time of Robert Bruce, king of Scotland, and Edward I. king of England. The said William was seventh in male descent from William de Douglas, the first lord Douglas, who was descended from Sholto Douglas, said to have flourished in the year 700.

John Douglas was the great-great grandson, and became (in consequence of the death of his elder brother, George, and of Robert and James, the only sons of George, who both died unmarried) lineal heir male of the body of the rev. James Douglas of Glenbervie; which James was brother to William, the ninth earl of Angus, the said ninth earl being the sixth in lineal male descent from the above-named William, the first earl of Douglas, and great-grandson to Archibald, the fifth earl of Angus (styled the great earl), whose second son was Gawin Douglas, bishop of Dunkeld, author of the celebrated translation of Virgil.

The said Archibald was the common ancestor of the lady Margaret Douglas (maternal sister of James V. of Scotland, niece of Henry VIII. grand-daughter of Henry VIII. and grandmother of James I. of England, and VI. of Scotland, being the mother of lord Darnley; and of the present Archibald, lord Douglas; of the duke of Hamilton; of the earl of Selkirk; of sir William Hamilton, K. B.; of sir Alexander Douglas, bart. (styled of Glenbervie); and of lord Glenbervie. John Douglas, his lordship's father, married Catharine, the second of the three daughters, and co-heiress of James Gordon, of Fechil, great-grandson to the celebrated geographer, Robert Gordon, of Straloch, author of the Geography of Scotland, inserted in Bleau's Atlas. The said Catharine Gordon was born in 1716, and died in 1737; she was second cousin to the last earl Marischal, George Keith, they being grandchildren of George Hay, second earl of Kinnoul, by his two daughters, the ladies Mary and Katharine. Her husband, the said John Douglas, survived her, and married a second wife, Margaret Forbes, but had no issue by her. He was born in 1714, and died in 1762.

He left no issue but lord Glenbervie, born May 24, 1743, and Catharine, who married James Mercer, esq. of Sunny Bank, Aberdeenshire, and died Jan. 3, 1802.

Heir Apparent. Frederick-Sylvester-North Douglas, only son of his lordship.

JOHN THELLUSSON, BARON RENDLESHAM, of Rendlesham. Born Sept. 12, 1785. Succeeded his father, the late peer, Sept. 15, 1808. His lordship is a captain in the 27th regiment of foot.

This family is originally French, and in ancient times ranked high in the nobility of that nation.

In the list of nobles that accompanied Philip the Sixth, king of France, into Flanders in 1328, is Frederick De Theilusson, Seigneur De Fléchéres; he is also described as baron St. Saphorin, from an estate he possessed adjoining to Flicheres, in the neighbourhood of Lyons. This Frederick held a high command in the army, and distinguished himself at the siege of Cassel. His descendants continued in the possession of these estates till Sunday, Aug. 22, 1572, when they fell victims at the massacre of St. Bartholomew. The only survivor of that dreadful slaughter was Theophilus De Thellusson, who having married a sister of count de Saluce, then governor of Lyons, was concealed by him, and secretly conveyed into Savoy, from whence seeing no probability of having his estates restored, or an end to the persecutions of the protestants, he retired to Geneva, where this family has since filled the first offices in the magistracy of that re-

In 1720, Isaac De Thelluson, the great grandfather of the present peer, was sent as envoy from Geneva to the court of Lewis XV. which station he held for sixteen years. He had four sons, viz 1. Isaac-Louis, afterwards first syndic of Geneva, died in 1790—2. George, a banker in Paris, in partnership with M. Necker, famous as prime minister of France; he died in 1770—3. Peter, born June 27, 1735—4 John-Francis, also one of the syndics of Geneva, died in 1800.

Peter Thellusson, the third son, his lordship's grandfather, ther, came to England in 1750, and died July 27, 1797, having married, Jan 6, 1761, Anne, second daughter of Matthew Woodford, esq. of Southampton, sister to sir Ralph Woodford, bart. of Carlby, Lincolnshire, by whom he had issue, 1. Peter-Isaac, the late peer-2. George-Woodford, born March 2, 1764, member in the present parliament for Barnstaple, and a director of the East India Company, married to Mary-Anne, daughter of Philip Fonnereau, esq. and has issue -3. Charles, born Feb. 2, 1770, member in three successive parliaments for the borough of Evesham, married to Sabina, daughter of Abraham Robarts, esq. representative for Worcester, a banker in London, late a director of the East India Company, and has issue-4. Maria, born Feb. 27, 1771; married, Aug. 14, 1792, the hon. Augustus Phipps, fifth son of Constantine, late lord Mulgrave-5. Anne, born in 1774; married, in 1801, to William Lukin, esq. a captain in the royal navy -6. Augusta-Charlotte, born Oct. 2, 1776; married to Thomas Crespigny, esq. M. P. in the last parliament for Sudbury, and had issue. He died in Aug. 1700.

Peter-Isaac, the eldest son, was born Oct. 13, 1761; married, June 14, 1783, Eleonor-Elizabeth, third daughter of John Cornwall, of Hendon, in Middlesex, esq. by whom he had issue, 1. Peter-Henry, born April 1, 1784, died August following—2. John, the present peer—3. Frances, born July 6, 1790, died July 7, 1807—4. George, born May 24, 1791—5. Henry, born July 15, 1792, died Oct. 6, 1800—6. Caroline, born Oct. 2, 1703—7. William—8 Frederick, twins, born Jan. 6, 1798—9. Edmund, born July 20, 1799—10. Arthur, born Dec. 19, 1801. His lordship was created a peer, by patent, dated February 1806, and dying, Sept. 15, 1808, by a fall from his horse, was succeeded by his son, the present

Heir Presumptive. George, his lordship's brother. Seat. Rendlesham House, Suffolk.

* Die Veneris, 24 Aprilis 1807.

Resolved and adjudged, by the lords spiritual and temporal in parliament assembled, that the barony of Zouch, of Harringworth was a barony created by writ in the reign of king Edward the Second, and therefore descendible to heirs general, and that the said barony fell into abeyance upon the death of Edward, the last lord Zouche, between Zouche Tate his grandson, (being the son and heir of Elizabeth, his eldest daughter,) and Mary, wife of William Connaid, esq. his second and younger daughter, which said Elizabeth and Mary were the only daughters of the said lord, and that the petitioner, sir Cecil' Bishopp, bart, as grandson and heir of Catharine Hedges, who was great grand-daughter, and one of the two coheirs of the said Zouche Tate, and Jane-Catharine-Sarah-Oliver-Lucy Anne Howell, as grand daughters of Mary Long, and Samuel-George Heming, as son of Wary Charlotte Heming, another grand daughter of the said Mary Long, which said Mary Long was the sister of the said Catharine Hedges, and the other great grand-daughter and co-heir of the said Zouche Tate, are co-heirs of the said

said Zouche, by Elizabeth, the eldest daughter of the said Edward, lord Zouche, by Elizabeth, the eldest daughter of the said Edward, lord Zouche, and that the said sir Cecil Bishopp, Jane-Catharine-Sarah-Oliver-Lucy-Anne Howell, and Samuel-George Heming, are the co-heirs of the said last lord Zouche, together with the heir or heirs of the body of the said Mary, the younger daughter of the said last lord Zouche, if the said Mary hath any heir or heirs of her Body now in existence, and if she hath none, such are the sole co-heirs of the said last lord Zouche, and that the said barony is in abeyance amongst the said co heirs, and consequently at his majesty's disposal, the said resolution and judgment was ordered to be laid before his majesty, by the lords with white staves.

The House of Lords having decided as above, that the barony of Zouche is in abeyance between sir Cecil Bishopp, bart, and the three daughters of the late Robert Long, esq. it is presumed, that his Majesty will shortly be induced to terminate the abeyance, as in every similar instance, during the present reign, the grace of the crown has immediately followed the favourable report of the House of Lords; the case of the barony of Beaumont not forming a regular exception, as that turned on a particular point of law.

THE MOST NOBLE ORDER OF THE GARTER,

This Order was instituted by Edward III. January 19, 1844.

The habit and ensigns of the Order, are a surcoat, garter, mantle, hood, gorge, collar, cap, and feathers; the four first were assigned by the founder Edward III. the others by Henry VIII. The motto on the garter and star is, HONI SOIT OUI MALY PENSE. The garter is of blue velvet, bordered with gold. The gorge is the figure of St. George on horseback, in armour, encountering a dragon with a tilting spear; the whole of gold enamelled, and may be enriched with jewels, at the pleasure of the possessor; it is worn across the right shoulder, pendant to a dark or garter blue libbon. The collar is of gold, weighing thirty ounces troy weight, and contains twenty-six garters, enamelled proper, in each a rose, gules, and as many knots, enamelled white, to which is pendant the gorge, as above. Charles II. ordained that the Knights should always, in public, wear, embroidered on the left side of their coars or cloaks, the cross of St. George, surrounded with the garter, with rays of silver, forming a star of eight points.

At a chapter, held June 3, 1786, a new statute was ordained, that in future the Order should consist of the Sovereign and twenty-five Knights, exclusive of the sons of his Majesty, or his successors, who have been or shall be elected Knights of the same Most Noble Order.

THE MOST ANCIENT ORDER OF THE THISTLE.

This Order was founded by king James V. 1540, revived by king James II. in 1687, and re-established by queen Anne, December 31, 1703.—In 1714, king George I. confirmed the statutes of queen Anne, and several others, particularly that of making rays of glory to surround the figure of St. Andrew, which is suspended to the collar, and his majesty was pleased to order, that in future, chapters of election should be held in the royal presence; the Order to consist of the sovereign and twelve brothren or knights, making in the whole thirteen, and four officers.

The star is worn on the left side of the coat or cloak, and consists of a St Andrew's cross of silver embroidery, with rays going out betwixt the points of the cross; on the middle thereof a thistle of gold and green upon a field of green, and round the thistle and field a circle of gold, having on it the following motto of the Order, in letters of green: NEMO ME INFUNE LACESSIT (No one provokes me with impunity.) The badge or jewel is worn worn pendant to a green ribband over the left shoulder, and tied under the arm; it consists of the image of St. Andrew, with the cross before, enamelled and chased on rays of gold, the cross and feet resting upon a ground of enamelled green; and on the back, enamelled on a green ground, a thistle gold and green, the flower red, with the before-mentioned motto round it. The collar consists of thistles and sprigs of rue going betwixt, and at the middle thereof shall be hung before the image of St. Andrew, as above; the whole of gold enamelled.

N. B. There being no installation of this Order, the Knight wears the collar and star immediately after his investiture.

THE MOST HONOURABLE MILITARY ORDER OF THE BATH.

This Order was instituted in England at the coronation of Henry IV. 1839, and revived by George I. who made it a statutable order in 1725, to consist of the sovereign, a prince of the blood royal, a grand master, and thirty-five knights companions; but there have been lately supernumerary or extra knights appointed.

The badge, cognizance, or ensign of this Order, is a rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuant from a sceptre between three imperial crowns, surrounded with the motto of the Order, viz. TRIA JUNCTA IN UNO; the whole of pure gold, chased and pierced, and is worn by the knight elect, pendant from a red riband across the right shoulder. The collar is of gold, weighing thirty ounces troy weight, and is composed of nine imperial crowns, and eight roses, thistles, and shamrocks, issuing from a sceptre, enamelled in their proper colours, tied or linked together with seventeen gold knots, enamelled white, having the badge of the Order pendant thereto. The star consists of three imperial crowns of gold, surrounded by the motto upon a circle of red, with rays issuant from the centre of silver, forming a star, and is embroidered at the left side of the upper garment. No knight can wear either the collar or star before his installation without a letter of dispensation from the sovereign, which is always granted when on foreign service.
